AUSTRIANS END Irish Home Rule Is To Not Abandoned But Is Postponed OFFENSIVE WITH NO GAINS MADE

Second Phase of Great Battle Expected At Any Time With Ententa Prepared To Meet Shock Along Mountain Front

AUSTRIAN TACTICS MADE CHECK EASY

Scattered Their Blows Along So Wide ... Front That Italians Did Not Feel Compelled To Utilize Reserves

N EW YORK, June 23-(Associated Press - The Austrian offensive has now come to a definite end, so far as its first phase is concerned, without the Austrians having gained one of the points aimed at as objectives. Blocked on the mountain sector bringing reinforcements into the battle along the Piave front because of the rising waters of that river, the enemy pressure has not been resumed since Thursday evening, after the Austrian assaults had been broken up or held. French and British have been held secure and every Austrian attack was beaten back with such heavy lesses that they ceased their oflensive along the northern front after three days of bloody effort. The Italian lines were bent before the initial drives, but the greater part of this lost ground has been regained. The Italians have reoccapited half the ground between the Sile and the Piave canal as a moult of these latest counters.

OFFENSIVE SOATTERED

The Italians were nowhere, at any stage of the great battle, forced to defend any one key mount against sint fremendous onslaught. The offensive was scat! tered and at no point did the Austrians concentrate a sufficient force to permit them to score a
